

Deputy Chief Clifford Froehlich

Moose Jaw Police Service

Lifetime Achievement Award

Deputy Chief Froehlich joined the Moose Jaw Police Service January 1, 1987.

He has been an exemplary representative of policing in Moose Jaw. Throughout his career, he has worked tirelessly to improve policing services to the City of Moose Jaw, and to build relationships with diverse communities. He has worked effectively with all Police Agencies in the province to enhance collaboration, cooperation, efficiency, and effectiveness. He developed and implemented a new service delivery model to increase police efficiency and oversaw the identification and implementation of a new communication system.

Deputy Chief Froehlich served on Community Committees and Boards including: Wakamow Aboriginal Community Association, Moose Jaw Housing Authority, Moose Jaw Kids Sport, John Howard Society, Moose Jaw Block Parent, and Canada Summer Games 2006.

He was promoted to Deputy Chief on Dec. 1, 2015, continuing to strive to improve policing and build relationships locally and provincially. His outstanding service and contributions to the Moose Jaw Police Service and the Community of Moose Jaw speak highly of his achievements.

The Saskatchewan Association of Chiefs of Police is proud to present the Lifetime Achievement Award to Deputy Chief Froehlich.
